

CONTENTS

Encounters between Disability Studies and Critical Trauma Studies: Introduction Arleen Ionescu and Anne-Marie Callus	5
--	---

Section 1: Autoethnographies Voicing Experiences of Disability through the Lens of Trauma Studies

On Being Woman, Other and Disabled: Navigating Identity Shahd Alshammari	37
--	----

Neurodivergence Enminded/Embodied: Living with Severe Traumatic Brain Injury Douglas E. Kidd	48
--	----

Mind and Body Transformations through Visual Art Ann Millett-Gallant	61
--	----

Borderline Knowing: (Re)Valuing Borderline Personality Disorder as (Counter) Knowledge Sarah Redikopp	77
---	----

Section 2: Fictional Narratives Featuring Encounters between Disability Studies and Critical Trauma Studies in Films and in Literature

Reclamation of the Disabled Body: A Textual Analysis of Browning's Freaks (1932) vs Modern Media's Sideshow Generation Sasha Dilan Krugman	95
--	----

'It's a Pity and a Sin': Images of Disability, Trauma and Subverted Power in Disney's Beauty and the Beast Katherine E. Smith	111
---	-----

Setting the Stage for Bridging Disability and Trauma Studies: Reclaiming Narrative in Amy and the Orphans Josephine Barnett	129
---	-----

To Leap First Down into The Trench: Tristram Shandy's Critique of The Wounds of War Tracy Anne Travis	149
---	-----

Section 3: Biographic Accounts at the Intersection between Disability Studies and Critical Trauma Studies

Narrating Disability, Trauma and Pain:

The Doing and Undoing of the Self in Language

Kurt Borg 169

Invincible yet Vulnerable: Race, Disability and Trauma

in South Africa after Oscar Pistorius

Nontsasa Nako 187

The Double Consciousness and Disability Dilemma:

Trauma and the African American Veteran

Sharon D. Raynor 207

Section 4: Review Articles

Reading Disability in Literature and in Film

Anne-Marie Callus225

On Public Representation of Trauma

Arleen Ionescu and Rongrong Qian237

Contributors' List251